OneAscent Collective Investment Trust

A collective investment trust (CIT) is a taxexempt, pooled investment vehicle maintained by a bank or trust company. CITs are institutional investment vehicles designed for use within certain tax-qualified and governmental retirement plans. CITs can offer similar benefits to mutual funds at generally lower costs, making them an attractive option for plan sponsors.

Less than 1% of all assets stewarded by faith-based investors are intentionally aligned with their values. We exist to increase the 1%.

Business is a powerful engine that impacts the world; therefore, we invest intentionally.

Our Approach to Values-Based Investing

To invest intentionally means to consider who a business may impact and how they may be impacted.

We assess how a company interacts with every single person and every square inch.

We seek to elevate companies that demonstrably and consistently promote flourishing for these stakeholders.

We believe that when a business does this well, it can create value greater than the sum of its parts.

OneAscent's judgment about the quality, alignment, or impact of a particular company may prove to be incorrect. There is no guarantee that any investment will achieve its objectives, generate positive returns, or avoid losses.

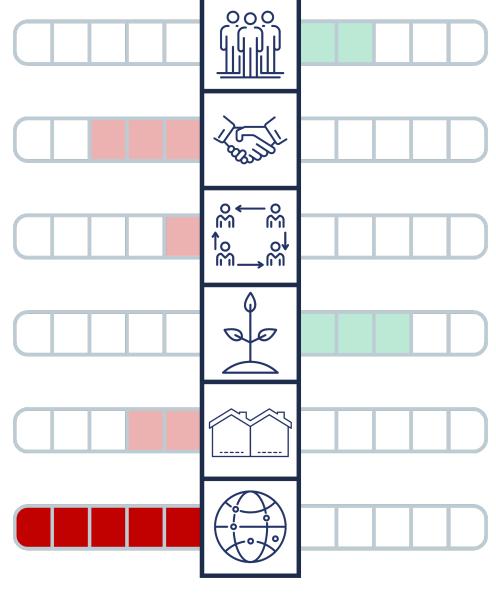

Eliminate companies whose products or practices cause harm

We seek to avoid profiting from companies whose principal business activities and practices include:

- × Abortion
- X Pornography
- X Adult entertainment
- × Tobacco
- × Gambling

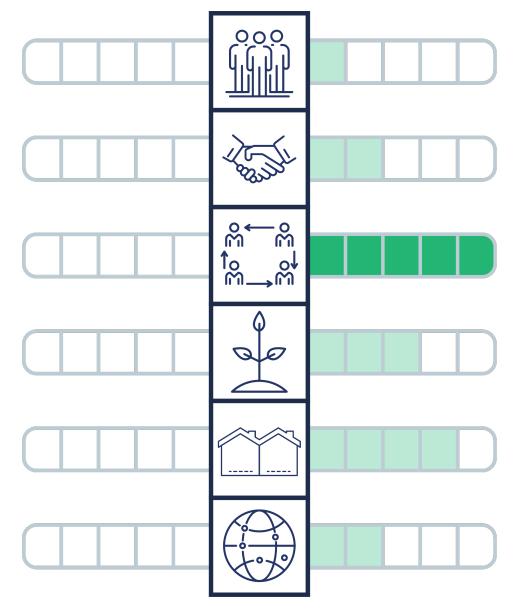

- X Human rights violations
- × Predatory lending
- × Alcohol
- × Cannabis

- ▼ Flourishing families
- ▼ Sanctity of life

- ▼ Education access

Prior to the inception date of the OneAscent Target Retirement Funds (CIT), the investment manager maintained an investment strategy which is used in the CIT. The CIT and the strategy performance represent separate products that employ the same strategy. The strategy performance is primarily shown to give potential investors additional information on how the strategy employed by the CIT has performed over a longer time horizon. The blended strategy performance results shown above reflect both the strategy performance prior to April 1, 2020, and the CIT performance since March 31, 2020. The strategy performance and the CIT performance may differ materially due to fees, participant and portfolio transactions and other factors. The strategy performance does not necessarily represent what investor returns would have been in the CIT. The strategy performance is calculated net of management fees ranging from 23 bps to 31 bps, transaction costs and underlying fund expenses.
